DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-3 are presented for examination.
2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: all reference numbers from page 8 line 28 to page 10 line 11. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Terry et al. (US pat. 6,125,374) in view of Clapp (US pat. 4,845,643).

With respect to claim 1, Terry et al. teach the claimed process for designing packaging by converting die line drawings into two-dimensional structural drawings so that the die lines are converted into guide lines, at figures 5, 6 and 7a, and at column 4 lines 30-52; inputting design elements into said structural drawings, at the abstract with the teaching of user selecting graphics from the database; rendering an image based on said two-dimensional structural drawings, at the abstract; and exporting views of said rendered three dimensional image in formats viewable by other users, at figure 28 item 202.

While Terry et al. teach most features claimed, it is noted that rendering a three dimensional image is not explicitly taught. However, Clapp teaches this at the abstract. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the instant invention to render a three dimensional image because this would permit a designer to obtain one or more perspective views of a project which is in the design stage, using only the elevation and plan view (2-D) drawings.

Claim 2 depends from claim 1 and further requires validating said die line drawings to ensure structural integrity of a three-dimensional structure formed from said die line drawings. Terry et al. teach this at figure 28 item 200.

Claim 3 recites the same features as in claim 1 but is drafted in system form.

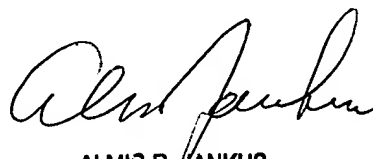

Terry et al. teach a system at columns 13 and 14.
